MORE SALT POURS ON THE COUNTY WITH EACH SNOWFALL.

Salt Melts Snow but Causes Problems

By MATT SPIPENG

KINGSTON

While widely recognized as a major factor in reducing winter auto accidents, the literally tons of salt that are stockpiled and poured on highways following each snow or ice storm could apparently cause contamination of wells and groundwater, and possible damage to vegetation.

According to authorities, no such problems have arisen recently in Ulster County, but the potential for problems is apparently there if care is not taken in the use and storage of the two most common snow and ice-melting salts, sodium chloride and calcium chloride.

In nearby Putnam County, salt from an apparently improperly maintained stockpile found its way into wells, raising the salt content of the water beyond acceptable limits, and rendering the wells useless, perhaps for years, according to Cesare Manfredi, senior sanitary engineer with the regional office of the Department of Environmental Conservation.

But even if the salt concentration goes beyond the "acceptable" limit of 250 parts per million in drinking water, it is apparently no real threat from a public health standpoint, according to authorities. "It's more of a taste problem," Manfredi said.

Warren McKeon, director of the regional DEC, indicated that difficulties most often arise, however, from improper storage.

"Generally speaking, salt, when stockpiled in the wrong places, has a propensity for getting into the underground water supply," McKeon said, adding, "The DEC is not against salt per se, we are just against the wrongful storage and use of it."

Special

Salt is widely recognized contributory agent in the corrosion of automobile bodies.

Some environmentalists contend that salt use on roadways damages roadside vegetation.

That salt usage varies widely is evidenced by a comparison between the City of Kingston and Ulster County highways.

The county Highway Department mixes its salt with sand—a mixture containing about seven to 10 per cent salt, according to Jose Camallonga, Jr., Superintendent of Highways.

The city generally uses pure salt, according to Board of Public Works Superintendent Charles J. Cole.

Generally, the county uses about 350 to 600 pounds of salt per mile per sanding and salting operation on 450 miles of county roads. The city uses about 1,500 tons of salt per winter, according to Cole.

Cole explained that the city faces the problem of clogged catch basins if it uses a mixture with sand. Also, pure salt makes it easier for the city to clear the streets, with their large number of catch basins, manholes and other utilities which could be damaged if the city attempted to plow as the county does, according to Cole. "Sand doesn't melt snow," Cole said.

"The City of Kingston is undoubtedly one of the heaviest users of salt by comparison with any other city of equal population in the Hudson Valley," Cole added, explaining that Kingston's residents are accustomed to a better level of road-clearing service than the other cities.

Camallonga said in some cases he would like to see pure salt used in the county because "it's a lot cheaper" than mixing with sand. "Of course, we have to keep ecology in mind," he said.

Nixon Leaves Door Open for Increases

Energy Crisis Key to $304 Billion Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today laid out his current financial year. It shows record $304.4-billion budget for fiscal 1975 but promptly pledged to exceed it if the energy crisis throws too many Americans out of work.

Unlike his hard-nosed budget of a year ago in which dozens of programs were targets for extinction or cutback, Nixon fastened his attention on the danger of a recession induced by the fuel shortage.

"The President will not tolerate a recession," Deputy Budget Director Frederic Malek told reporters. "If it means busting the budget, he will bust the budget to keep people from losing their jobs."

The budget arithmetic, already disclosed last week, shows a deficit of $9.4 billion, new funds for mass-transit systems, wrapped in a special revenue-sharing program, and a large increase in aid to college students.

Nixon said his budget, which amounts to almost $1,500 for every man, woman and child in the nation, walks a tightrope of moderate economic restraint. "In the face of economic uncertainty, my budget recommendations provide for a fiscal policy that would support high employment while restraining inflation," he said.

His budget officials left the door open for increasing spending or cutting taxes to create jobs lost through the energy crisis.

The standby spending program could include accelerated federal construction or procurement, public-service jobs in high jobless areas, or even inflation, some of it in higher fuel costs to the government.

Malek said. Just as the budget was unveiled, the Housing and Urban Development Department disclosed plans to provide subsidies for tenants in 118,000 more public housing units, thus providing some stimulus to the depressed housing market.

Although the amount of new federal spending for additional subsidies in fiscal 1975 is small, budget officials said this was the first example of the type of moves Nixon will make to stimulate the economy if needed.

As much as $5 billion more in federal funds could be infused into the economy if needed to prevent a recession, Malek said.

Nixon's new spending program is greatly affected by in-del Halim Khaddam, laid down terms Sunday for a disengagement agreement that Israel is certain to reject.

Israeli troops wind up second phase of Middle East pullback, handing over 30-mile-long strip of land on the west bank of the Suez Canal to the U. N. peace-keeping troops. Story page 14.

Khaddam in a statement to the Saudi press and government radio said: "Syria will accept military disengagement on the Golan Heights front only if it's made a part of a plan for a total Israeli withdrawal from Arab territories conquered both in the 1973 and 1967 wars."

Israeli leaders have repeatedly made clear that Israel is going to retain permanently some of the territory taken in 1967 because they feel it is necessary to Israel's security. And one piece of territory they are most adamant about holding is the Golan Heights from which Syrian batteries shelled Israeli settlements in northern Galilee until the Israelis captured them.

Al Anwar's Riyadh correspondent said Faisal assured Assad that Saudi Arabia "will continue to support Syria whether by the presence of Saudi troops on the Syrian front or through the continuation of the oil embargo against the United States."

The two chiefs of state also agreed to make the lifting of the oil embargo "dependent on Israeli commitment, either direct or through the U.S. to accept Syrian terms for a military disengagement," the report said.

Al Bayrak said Sheikh Sabah of Kuwait pledged to Assad that the "oil war against the United States will continue until Syrian terms for disengagement are met."

Khaddam told newsmen in Kuwait today he had "no official word" that Kissinger plans another visit to Syria soon.

The Los Angeles Times, quoting well-placed diplomatic sources in Beirut, reported today that Syria had asked Kissinger to return to help hammer out a disengagement agreement. The report said he accepted and would be in Damascus by the end of the week.

"We have no official word about such plans," Khaddam said.

The strike by independent truckers idled an estimated 20,000 workers in affected industries today as it began crippling deliveries of meat and produce in some areas.

New violence was reported. Officials in 15 states reported shootings, rock throwing or tire and hose slingshots over the weekend.

Two drivers suffered shoulder wounds from bullets which struck their trucks near New Buffalo, Mich., and Louisville, Ky., Sunday night. A Pennsylvania official said there had been 14 shootings at trucks and up to 100 other violent incidents since last Wednesday. One trucker died in violence related to the shutdown last Thursday.

About 3,400 National Guardsmen stood watch today on Ohio and Pennsylvania highways. Federal and state officials recessed a Washington meeting early today without settling the growing shutdown that has touched at least 30 states. Thousands of trucks are not operating, hundreds of truck stop restaurants-casinos have closed since Thursday.

Federal energy chief William E. Simon, Gov. Milton J. Shapp of Pennsylvania, representatives of five other states and spokesmen for some independent drivers participated in the Washington meetings that were to resume today after two unsuccessful sessions Sunday.

Simon said that he opposed, but did not rule out, a rollback in diesel fuel prices. A rollback is a key demand by the strikers. They say diesel fuel has gone from 33 cents to 47 cents a gallon in eight months.

Shapp proposed a 45-day moratorium on the truckers' shutdown to avert "pending economic disaster." But spokesmen for the striking independents, and drivers interviewed in several states, said they weren't rolling again until diesel fuel prices are cut back, freight rates are raised and until they are allowed to pass along higher fuel costs.

By Sunday night, the shutdown was having some effect in 30 states from Connecticut to Florida, across the South and Midwest and along the southern border of the country from Texas to California. Governors officially deplored the continuing violence. Attorney Gen. William B. Saxbe said in Mechanicsburg, Ohio, that "this handful of truckers is not going to bring this country to its knees."

Pennsylvania activated 2,500 National Guardsmen to relieve 1,400 others who had been watching highways since Friday, Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan ordered 900 Guardsmen into similar duty.

One immediate concern was food. An estimated 20 meat-packing plants in Iowa, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas and Pennsylvania were closed or cutting back operations, idling at least 8,000 workers.

The head of a grocers' association in Massachusetts said the One flow of meat, citrus and produce into his area had slowed to virtually nothing, and he predicted an impact on consumers in a few days.

"The truckers' strike will shut down our industry by the middle of this week," said Tom Osburne, president of a trade association for Florida's $2 billion a year citrus industry.

Monday to try either by checks Sunday at major quest, picketing or truck block-truck stops along key north- and south-east-west routes diesel fuel from refineries to showed traffic extremely light, truck stops. Truckers in other Police in heavily affected areas were busy talking to union drivers, asking them to observe the shutdown.

Both actions are designed at cutting off all truck traffic.

Cheryl said she once heard and saw one of the two helicopters searching for her. But she said she was not noticed even though she waved, and carved S.O.S. into the snow, filling the letters with dirt and leaves for visibility.

"I began to get angry because I was afraid I was going to miss my English class on Monday," said Cheryl, a B-plus student at Anaheim High School.

Cheryl said she knew the girl was healthy when she smiled and said: "I think my teeth are finally unfreezing."

"I wasn't lost," Cheryl later joked with searchers. "I knew where I was (but) several other people didn't know." More than 50 sheriff's deputies and volunteers had been looking for her.

Cheryl, who has been legally blind for two years, has peripheral vision that enables her to see things to the side, but not directly in front of her.

Astronauts Begin Packing

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Skylab 3 astronauts retrieved thousands of rare pictures of the sun and Comet Kohoutek Sunday during America's last planned spacewalk for almost a decade, and today began packing to come home.

Flight Commander Gerald P. Carr and scientist Edward G. Gibson worked for five hours and 19 minutes outside the big space station that has been their home for almost three months, while pilot William R. Pogue stayed inside to keep the lab under control.

The record-setting crew of spacemen splashed down at 11:17 a.m. EDT Friday near San Diego in the Pacific Ocean, ending another era of U.S. space flight.

The men have completed almost all of the thousands of hours of biomedical, Earth and Sun study and comet watching experiments of the 84-day flight. Biomedical tests and packing the results of their research work filled today's flight plan.

The next American space mission, an orbital linkup with a Soviet crew in mid-1975, won't include a spacewalk as planned now, so the next outside venture probably will not be staged until the space shuttle program is under way in the 1980s.

In addition to logging the big film cassettes full of sun and comet photos, Carr and Gibson retrieved two samples of a material used to make the big sunshades that have kept the space home cool since last May.

The astronauts' time outside, although it wore them out, wasn't close to their record-length, seven hour and one minute spacewalk they made Dec. 29.

Jaworski Seeking More Tapes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski says he is seeking more tapes and documents from the White House, even though President Nixon said only last week that the prosecutor had been given all the information he needs.

Jaworski said Sunday the White House has promised him an answer today whether the additional information will be handed over.

The President said in his State of the Union message Wednesday: "I believe that I have provided all the material that he (Jaworski) needs to conclude his investigations."

But Jaworski said Sunday that while he may have enough information to "indict certain individuals" sometime this month, he needs more to complete his investigation "with care and with thoroughness."

He would not identify the additional material he wants except to say, "there are documents and some are also in the nature of tapes." He did not pinpoint just when he had asked for this information but said the White House informed him Friday it would make a final decision today whether to furnish it.

Regional Plan Advanced For 700 School Districts

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—A special state task force on education financing has advanced a preliminary plan which would effectively merge the more than 700 school districts in the state into about 60 regional districts.

The major purpose behind the move would be to more equitably distribute the billions of dollars in school aid between rich and poor districts.

The proposal, made public Saturday night, is also designed to ease the burden on local property taxpayers.

A preliminary report on the proposal, made by a panel of school finance experts from the governor's staff, the Legislature and the Education Department, made no mention of the effect on the total education expenditure by either state or local government.

Instead, the report said a proposed aid formula still under revision would represent a basic state-local support ceiling of approximately $1.120 per pupil — essentially the equivalent of the current formula which has a $860 per pupil ceiling.

The new formula would include the basic school aid included in the $860 base plus aid now distributed under 35 optional aid plans, a representative of the task force said. Any increases above the $1.120 per pupil standard would cost the state about $30 million for each $10 boost in the basic level.

Informed sources have said that a hike in school aid equivalent to $210 million on a school year basis was possible. Such a hike would cost about $60 million additional this year. The state now provides about $2.5 billion in local school aid.

The task force started to work in July on a thorough overhaul of the present, complicated, and sometimes inequitable school aid formula.

The need for the revision was evidenced by the wide variation in the ratio of taxable property per pupil between the richest and poorest districts in the state.

The range was from $278,000 real value of property per student in Suffolk County's town of Southold to $6,202 in Salmon River in Franklin County — a 45-1 ratio.

Adoption of the regional approach would level out the wide variation to approximately a 5-1 ratio, a task force spokesman said.

The regions essentially would be the existing BOCES (Board of Cooperative Educational Services) districts. Districts with less than 10,000 pupils would be required to join BOCES with first year administrative costs borne by the state.

All districts with fewer than eight teachers would be annexed by contiguous school districts, according to the proposal. The "big five" cities would receive state aid benefits for certain special services similar to those provided by BOCES.

School districts would be prompted to join in the regional

Wilson Aide Denies Stewart Plans Off

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — An aide to Governor Wilson said Sunday the governor has not expressed any intentions of abandoning the conversion of Stewart Field in Orange County into a major airport or the proposed Sunnyside sports complex in Queens.

"Wilson has not indicated any desire to scrap either of the plans," the spokesman said in response to a published report that he was planning to drop both projects.

A story in the New York Sunday News said Wilson probably will use funds which had been earmarked for the Sunnyside stadium-racetrack and the airport near Newburgh for mass transit and housing.

The spokesman said Wilson is awaiting a feasibility study on the Sunnyside project, which was ordered by Emil Mosbacher, chairman of the state Racing and Wagering Board.

"Nothing has changed that I'm aware of," the spokesman said.

As for the airfield, the spokesman said Wilson is working Supervisor Oliver Crawford said that meetings of the Olive Town Board will be held in the Ashokan American Legion Hall until further notice. Meetings are held on the first Tuesday of the month, with the next meeting scheduled for the American Legion Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 5, beginning at 8 p.m. Meetings have been held in the town office building in the past, with limited space presenting a problem. The organizational meeting in January was held before a stand-up crowd, and town officials hope the move to the Legion Hall will help alleviate the problem.

Man Burned to Death In Milton Trailer Fire

State police are investigating the cause of a fire which destroyed a house trailer on which Indian Road in Milton this morning and took the life of a man.

The victim was not identified. However, state police indicated that the man was an employee of Leonard Schreiber Cold Storage. The trailer he lived in was on the Schreiber land.

A spokesman for the Milton fire department said they received a report of the fire at about 5:30 a.m. He said that when they arrived at the scene with three trucks the fire "had already passed its peak." The fire still raged, he said, "but you could see right through the trailer. There was nothing left inside."

When the final flames were doused at about 8:30 a.m., the spokesman said, "there was nothing there but the floor." State police said this morning's fire apparently began in the center of the trailer in the vicinity of a gas stove. The victim, they said, was burned beyond recognition. Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp pronounced him dead at the scene.

It was only three weeks ago that another fatal blaze shook this orchard town. It consumed the lives of Mrs. Patricia DiMetro, her daughter Carla and her seven-year-old son James. The father, James DiMetro was severely burned in the blaze.

Kimpel Outlines 18-Point Program

NEWBURGH — Helmut Kimpel, candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator in the 40th District (Orange, Ulster, Rockland), has charged his opponent, incumbent GOP State Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn with "dividing the party with his emotionalism, his feuding and his dogmatic, ultra-right wing stance on the issues."

At a press conference Sunday at Kimpel's Newburgh office, the 52-year-old industrial relations specialist said he wants to help unify and strengthen the Republican Party and he outlined an 18-point legislative program.

Blasting what he termed the "ineffective and negative performance of Schermerhorn," the Warwick resident called for elimination of real property tax as a means of financing education and welfare and suggested that education be financed through state income tax and welfare through federal income tax, "provided local controls are maintained."

Kimpel accused Schermerhorn of not working with committee members in his district, of not working with the executive committee in Orange County and of having publicly stated that he would never accept the support of Orange County Republican Chairman William E. Doulin.

Kimpel said that "If Doulin sees fit to support my candidacy, I will be glad to accept his support. But I want to earn that endorsement from the 572 committee members."

"The upcoming race in the 40th district is not a fight between Schermerhorn and Doulin or factions in the party. It's between me and Schermerhorn. It's between my position of constructive and conciliatory law-making, and his of political opportunism and expediency," Kimpel said.

"Schermerhorn claims he is a man of the people, when in fact he's in the bag of special interest groups seeking to use him for their own ends. He has done nothing for the average man in the 40th district," Kimpel concluded.

Biaggi Takes Dim View of Time Changes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Mario Biaggi, D-N.Y., Sunday urged the repeal of year 'round Daylight Saving Time, saying any energy savings realized by safety hazards posed by the morning darkness.

"This dark period is especially difficult for school children who must travel to school by foot or on buses," said Biaggi, who originally supported the experimental changeover to conserve energy.

Biaggi said the tragedy of school children being killed during early morning hours might have been averted "if it was light out."

"There may be a possibility of establishing Daylight Saving Time for the eight lighter months of the year — March through October — and eliminating it only during the darkest winter months," he said, calling for "immediate" action to restore "daylight to the important morning hours."

SBA Officer Here Thursday

KINGSTON — Another visit has been scheduled for the Small Business Administration (SBA), Richard D. Mercier, SBA loan representative will be in Kingston on Thursday, Feb. 7, according to Len Cane, executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County.

Cane said that Mercier will be in the Governor Clinton Hotel from 9-4 conducting interviews for area business people seeking loan information. Interview scheduling is arranged through the Chamber office. A call to the Chamber is necessary to schedule each 15-minute interview. Cane again advises early scheduling, as the 15 minute segments tend to fill up quickly.

These "circuit rider" visits by the SBA were set up originally by the Chamber of Commerce and Rap. Hamilton Fish's office as a service to the business community.

Dental Health

Today marks the start of Dental Health Week in Kingston and Mayor Francis R. Koenig so designated the event during a recent ceremony at City Hall. With the mayor are (L) Dr. Charles Fliegler, Dr. Jeffrey Greene, Dr. Robert Zinderman, chairman of the Children's Dental Health Committee and Dr. Dzintra Kade. In addition to articles appearing in The Sunday Freeman, the committee has planned a poster contest throughout the Kingston schools under the auspices of Pat Bendazzi, art teacher. Other features include a program of talks about dental care to be started in March and continue throughout the year. The committee also hopes to furnish a pamphlet on children's dental health in maternity packages of literature and items received at the local hospitals by new mothers. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 4, 1974

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The Food for Peace program, established to feed the hungry of the world, has been perverted into a Food for War program in Southeast Asia. This sinister change has been manipulated quietly by the National Security Council. Of the $1 billion worth of food that is shipped abroad for the needy, the NSC has insisted almost half should go to bolster the military strength of Cambodia and South Vietnam, according to classified documents. Elsewhere, the food is sold through regular commercial channels to alleviate shortages and prevent hunger. The United States foots the bill, treating it as a low-interest loan to be repaid over a long period. But in Cambodia, President Nixon gave the Lon Nol regime special permission to use up to 80 per cent of the proceeds from the sale of American food for "common defense" and "internal security." In South Vietnam, the Thieu regime is permitted to spend a full 100 per cent of the food proceeds on military buildups.

Classified documents show that the President started off this fiscal year with a reasonable request for $30 million to finance Food for Peace shipments to Cambodia. But bit by bit, the White House requests ballooned to $173 million and are likely to go higher. Even more food aid has been earmarked for South Vietnam, although the jump in the request has been less drastic.

While most food aid to the two embattled countries has been in rice, the documents show that 175,000 metric tons of wheat will be supplied by next July. Yet the wheat shortage at home has pushed up the price of bread to 50 cents a loaf and has forced the United States to import wheat at exorbitant prices.

For years, the Food for Peace program, along with the Peace Corps, has won friends for the United States among the world's poor. We have seen burlap bags of grain and boxes of cereal, with big "USA" markings, going into impoverished villages.

But in the besieged Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, one of our informants witnessed a different scene, not far from a camp where hundreds of refugees complained of food shortages. He counted 50 trucks filled with bags of U.S. rice lined up outside a military warehouse. Instead of feeding the starving refugees, it was going for Army rations.

ASTHMA BONANZA: A Senate subcommittee has found that a national fund drive for asthmatic children has raised almost $10 million, but spent only a miserly 14 per cent to help sick youngsters.

The rest has gone for fat salaries and expenses for fundraisers, plus a promotion campaign to sell a book by a director of the Asthmatic Children's Foundation.

In hearings beginning this week, Sen. Walter Mondale's Children and Youth subcommittee plans to probe children's charity drives which use the sympathy of contributors for children to line fundraisers' pockets.

Mondale's investigators have already discovered that the Asthmatic Children's Foundation, whose main office is located in Miami Beach, raised $9.9 million over the last decade, purportedly to aid youngsters who are wheezing and sometimes dying from breath-robbing asthma.

TOUCHING PLEAS The foundation's solicitations tell of the "many children in our residential treatment centers" and include touching pleas for funds to help those "who will not be at home this year."

Actually, the Mondale probes found only about 50 or so youngsters are under full-time care in the foundation's treatment centers. The same solicitation urges contributors to buy a three-dollar book by a foundation director, Dr. Harold Abramson.

What the solicitation does not say is that 86 per cent of the money contributed for asthmatic kids has been used for "fundraising activities," mostly salaries and expenses.

Over $7 million has gone to a Chicago fundraiser named V.H. Giesler & Co., a Mondale staff report shows. Giesler, when queried by Mondale's sleuths, explained that it takes money to raise money.

OTHER PROBES PLANNED The hearings this week will also include advice from well-run foundations on how costs can be kept to a minimum so that the children can get most of the contributions.

Mondale is also seeking ways to let the public know which charities are doing the best job.

In coming months, Mondale, a former crusading attorney general in Minnesota who exposed corrupt charities there, plans to probe more children's foundations.

Already, he has found evidence that donations to other charities have been used to buy luxury items for fundraisers, pay $50,000-a-year salaries, provide hidden compensation through insurance deals and pay for visits by fundraisers to sumptuous hotels.

Inside Report

Buttering Up Fish

By ROWLAND EVANS

and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Key Republican members of the House Judiciary Committee have sent this secret message to President Nixon: they will have no contact with him until impeachment proceedings are completed, a potentially ominous signal from the President's own party.

The message, quietly sent to the Oval Office after a caucus of the committee's Republican members just before Christmas, is being taken with deadly seriousness. One thoughtful Republican on the committee has informed his wife to expect a good long wait before fraternizing at any White House social functions.

Partly behind this symbolic and temporary divorce from the Nixon White House by Republicans on the impeachment committee are naive efforts by the White House to butter up the Congressmen who are going to be sitting in judgment.

One is Rep. Hamilton Fish, a Republican junior member of the committee from Millbrook. He found himself conspicuously invited to a White House bill-signing ceremony for the first time during five long years in the House. The bill, unimportant compared to other bills the Congressmen has had a role in, dealt with the 1976 bicentennial.

Another Republican committee member was crudely sounded out by the Republican party chairman of his state, obviously on orders from the Republican National Committee, to find out how he was going to vote. He was outraged by the question.

Whether this arm's-length gap between the committee's 17 Republicans and the President widens is going to depend heavily on whether the White House decides to cooperate—or do battle with—the impeachment committee. The Republicans, headed by Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, are sending this private warning to the Oval Office: Remember, Mr. President, this committee could either be an agent of impeachment or an agent of "exoneration."

Some presidential aides believe Mr. Nixon is well aware that his conduct toward the impeachment committee, as the legal body responsible for starting the constitutional impeachment process, must at least appear to be beyond reproach.

In contrast to the Senate Watergate committee established to investigate alleged illegalities arising from the June 1972 breaking and entering of the Democratic National Committee offices, the House Judiciary Committee has what one presidential aide calls "a constitutional burden." While saying nothing publicly about how the President will deal with the committee, White House aides concede this distinction is bound to have some impact on the President.

Yet, no White House guidelines are yet discernible, nor are they likely to be until the White House has answers to some of these questions: Precisely how does the committee define an impeachable offense? How does the committee plan to use and safeguard information demanded from the White House? Can the committee guarantee the confidentiality of documents and other materials it gets from the administration?

As for the total break in communications between committee Republicans and the President, presidential advisors seem content with the channel proposed by Hutchinson: all contact between the Republicans and the White House will be handled by the committee's minority counsel, Albert Jenner, and Mr. Nixon's special counsel, James St. Clair.

Yet, the quick decision by the Republicans to break off contact with the White House reflects deep strains within the party over the impeachment issue. Facing a congressional election only nine months hence, there is not a Republican member of Congress running for reelection not terrified that the political fallout of Watergate may gravely taint his campaign.

In short, it is the Republicans, not the Democrats, who stand to gain most by Mr. Nixon's removal from office well before the campaign starts. The Republicans would then be running under the banner of Gerald Ford and in a political climate closer to presidential honeymoon than Watergate.

The impeachment committee Republicans, lawyers to a man, do not publicly discuss such apostasy. Instead, they talk of the committee's constitutional prerogatives, of its dominant role over all other Watergate-connected bodies and of the need for full presidential cooperation with what one calls their "decorous" impeachment proceedings.

Thus, if the President means to extend his "fight like hell" pledge to the House Judiciary Committee, he risks massive defections among Republicans who otherwise might find sound reasons for voting against articles of impeachment. If one thing about the move to impeach Mr. Nixon is perfectly clear, it is that impeachment is more a political process than a criminal prosecution. Intent to cooperate, not intent to resist, could turn out to be President Nixon's best defense.

The Three Classes of Trinidad

ABOARD M.V. ANGELINA LAURO. — The only race tension in Trinidad occurs when the people watch the horses run. They have something worse — a class society and a dictator. The boss is Prime Minister Eric Williams, who earned a doctorate in philosophy at Oxford University, helped the islands of Trinidad and Tobago win independence from Great Britain, and strangled all opposition parties.

The class society falls into three groups: Ordinary, Second Class, and First Class. They do not mix. An "Ordinary" man may have a son who studies law. If, in time, the boy becomes a First Class citizen, he will usually ignore his parents in public and beg them not to greet him.

Trinidad emerges from the bottom of the Caribbean like a green cork. It is so close to the coast of Venezuela that it affords but two channels into the capital, Port of Spain. One is called the Dragon's Mouth; the other, the Serpent's Mouth.

The lush tropical countryside, the sheer mountains, the home of the calypso are interesting. But the people are entrancing. I do not know of any other small place where there are 375,000 Hindus; 50,000 Chinese; 433,000 blacks; 160,000 Creoles; 10,000 refugees; 19,000 Englishmen and 1,700 Syrians.

The Chinese dominate. The rich ones who own the cocoa plantations are "First Class" citizens. The prime minister, whose ancestry is part Hindu and part black, seems not to relate independence and liberty with equality. He does not interfere with the rigid caste system. Dr. Williams is, of course, "First Class."

In World War II, the United States Navy had a base at Maracas Bay with a deep-water anchorage shielded by mountains. American Seabees in battalions built an impassable road from Port of Spain through the jungle passes to the base.

The Williams government tossed the Navy out. My wife and I sat on the deserted beach and wondered why a poor government would toss a big spending payroll from the harbor.

American blacks, as tourists, cannot understand why the Trinidadians do not regard Dr. Martin Luther King as a hero. The natives shrug him off as a man who lost control of his mission.

In retaliation U. S. Negroes accuse the people of Trinidad of "playing Whitey's game." Ormonde Springer, who admits to being "fifty-four and change" smiles modestly.

On Tobago at Easter, the people stage goat and crab races. At Trinidad, the big sport is cricket. There is a sagging stadium in the middle of Port of Spain. The spectators are so loud that the park is called "the lungs of the city."

Almost everywhere in the world, increased education of the young has created a chasm between children and parents. Teenagers laugh at the Trinidadian philosophy of "Discipline, Tolerance and Production." They demand to know why Trinidad supports an ambassador to Egypt when there aren't a dozen citizens living there.

Fresh fish from the Caribbean is abundant, but the people tire of it. On Sunday, they eat meat — beef, chicken and pork — all at one meal. The religious side of life is strong and, despite the presence of powerful Hindus and Chinese, the Roman Catholic Church is the "boss" of the soul.

The calypso, which originated in Trinidad, is as common as rum. The youth stage a bacchanal from January until the beginning of Lent. Conga lines snake the streets. They sing: "We dance. We drink. We fall down. We don't care." The parents, who are said to be "on a diet," spend the same time praying for their children.

From the little I have seen and heard, this island, which is only 10.3 degrees north of the equator, is neither a nice place to visit nor to live. It is considered bad form to address a Third Class citizen as "Mister." If he is bold, he will tell you that he is not a mister.

True freedom and equality is attained only by the packs of dogs which trot through the streets. They are everywhere and they have no caste system. The long panting tongues and the prominent ribs show that they are also free to starve...

The Trouble Spots

Anniversaries usually are a time for appraisals so a look at the situation in South Vietnam is in order.

It is a year since the cease-fire went into effect in Vietnam and an objective view of conditions warrants an attitude of cautious optimism.

There had been fears that South Vietnam would be quickly overrun by the Communists as soon as the American pullout was effected. It was a logical concern. For years American ground troops supported by massive Air Force units had borne the brunt of the fighting and the South Vietnamese forces were lightly regarded.

But South Vietnam today is alive and doing well. That doesn't mean that it is out of danger but its government is stable and its soldiers have more than held their own on the battlefield.

How long these conditions will prevail is still uncertain. The North Vietnamese continue to move men and materiel south, augmenting the Viet Cong, and there are almost daily reports of Communist preparations for major offenses. But one wonders if these are real or designed for propaganda purposes—to perhaps persuade the United States to direct rehabilitative aid to the North.

Meanwhile President Thieu continues to rule with an iron hand he reportedly is stronger both politically and militarily than a year ago. The territory under effective Saigon control is undiminished and the morale of his army is high.

It's much more than Washington had hoped for. In fact after the cease-fire, the feeling in our capital was that President Thieu and his government would not last six months.

That they have survived can be attributed to several factors not the least of which is the tremendous aid this government still is furnishing South Vietnam in the way of finances, armaments and other supplies. The fact remains the South Vietnamese are doing the actual fighting and doing it well.

In Laos, too, there are signs that the coalition government is working. Internal unrest is at a minimum.

Only in the third area of Indochina, Cambodia, does heavy fighting continue but even there Phnom Penh has managed to survive, the Communist attacks.

Thus, at this point, the Nixon-Kissinger strategy of saving Indochina from a complete Communist sweep seems to have been successful and the developments there give further hope that the United States plans in the Mideast may be equally productive.

Israel's military pullout from the Suez Canal and the Sinai has begun and President Sadat of Egypt is talking in conciliatory tones.

It is hard to pin down what all the activity on the Mideast diplomatic and oil fronts translates into. But the prospects are encouraging.

Central City Boom

The energy crisis has had one unanticipated effect. It has focused attention on city areas as the more easily reached with less gas for drivers or for those using taxis, buses, and/or other forms of local transportation.

By the same token, huge shopping malls far outside city limits are feeling the energy crisis in reverse. Whereas shoppers used to see something in windows of mall stores and stopped for them, now, they don't stop because they don't go by; nor stop there, as they don't have the gas to get there.

These two effects seem to complement each other. They confirm the fact that an urban boom may be on the way, with central cities having a new lease on life. They have an opportunity to recapture some of the business that passes them by on the way to the shopping mall.

Less and costlier gasoline means a driver will think twice before he hauls his family 10, 20 or 100 miles or more for a casual shopping trip.

Bigger cities, especially, are looking ahead to urban business. Their transportation is their big advantage. There is even considerable talk of new building in the cities, even of hotels to serve the expected new visitors who will want to be handy to the city's attractions and shops.

It is early to tell the full effects of the energy shortage on the average family's life style, but these are some important ones.

Mixed Reaction To United Way Phone Campaign

KINGSTON one hand, numerous persons who had never been contacted in United Way campaigns were reached, but on the other, "upwards of 70 per cent" of those contacted, while indicating a willingness to contribute, chose not to do so over the telephone. "They didn't want to commit to the phone," Fredenberg explained. "They said if we could get them pledge cards, they would contribute."

Fredenberg also thinks that telephone campaigns might be the way to reach a lot of people with a minimum of volunteers. "It's something we should look into," he said.

United Way officials hope to have figures on the weekend drive within a week.

An Unscheduled Swim for Pair, Charges Filed

LEEDS in pursuit. Police said Macleod there was a brief struggle and the trooper himself fell in. Macleod was charged with assault second—a felony—resisting arrest and larceny. He was arraigned before Catskill Town Judge Charles Crommie and is his man, but not without getting in Green County Jail.

According to Leeds State Police, Macleod allegedly stole a pair of skis from the Fun Time Ski Shop and when approached by a state policeman, kicked him in the shins and took off. Macleod then ran to the creek with the state policeman

Pro-Nixon Petition Plea

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Formation of a committee to circulate petitions asking that President Nixon not be impeached was a goal announced Sunday by the Orange County Republican committee chairman.

William Doulin, 70, said those who signed the petition "would show they have confidence in the American way."

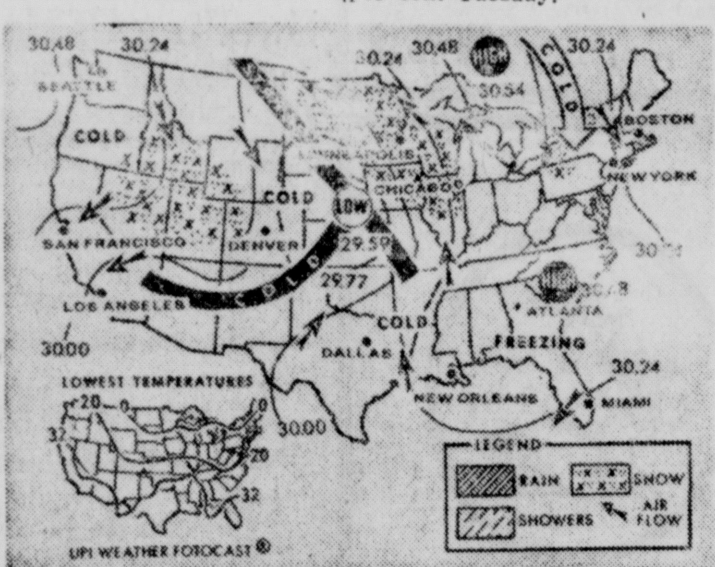

He also said the Watergate hearings should be run on Broadway as a comedy. Doulin added that those arrested for the Watergate break-in deserved to be arrested because "they had no common sense."

First Pageant Orientation Set; Jayncees to Raise Funds

A Saugerties Jayncees committee headed by Joan Nesgoda will begin this week to contact by mail and telephone the more than 400 patrons of the Miss Ulster County Scholarship Pageant to finance the Pageant Show and Scholarship Fund.

The 1974 Pageant, sponsored by Saugerties Jayncees, will be held Saturday, March 30 at Saugerties High School.

The first orientation for prospective contestants will be held Wednesday, Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting rooms of Statewide Savings and Loan Association, 267 Wall Street, Kingston, according to George Leombruno, entries chairman. Prospective contestants may attend with a friend or parent.

To be eligible as an entry, a contestant must be 18 years of age prior to the date of the Miss American Pageant held in September at Atlantic City, N.J. The contest is open to any unmarried young woman, who lives, attends school or is employed in Ulster or Greene County and not over 28 years of age.

The Pageant offers cash scholarships to the winner and two runners-up to any accredited college or any other school of higher learning and may be used to further careers in cosmetology, singing, dancing, nursing, art, modeling or other endeavors.

The amount of this year's scholarships will be announced at a later date. Last year's scholarships totaled $1,000, the largest of any regional or county pageant in the state. The $1,000 was proportionately divided among the three winners.

The winner will be crowned by the 1973 titleholder, Frances Ilona Tomshaw of Kingston and will represent Ulster County in the Miss New York State Pageant held at Olean in July where the winners share $3,000 in scholarships.

Additional information about pageant applications is available by calling George Leombruno at 30 Austin Avenue, Saugerties.

In the finance campaign, pageant patrons may indicate their support of the scholarship program in the form of an advertisement or mention in the Ulster County Miss America souvenir program. Letters of solicitation are in the mails to regular supporters.

Those professional people, businesses and industries who have not previously supported the pageant may indicate their intention by contacting Mrs. Nesgoda at 15 Austin Avenue, Saugerties or Pageant Business Manager Al Cawein, P.O. Box Uptown 114, Kingston.

Christian Women's Club Schedules Luncheon Here

The noon luncheon meeting of the Kingston-Ulster County Christian Women's Club will be held Monday, Feb. 11, at Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Duane Vosburg of Binghamton is featured as guest speaker. A homemaker and mother, she has been involved with Christian Women's Club for eight years and has been chairman of Binghamton Christian Women's Club for one year. Four years ago, she and her husband visited Columbia, South America and returned there again last year. Mr. Vosburg is employed by the IBM Corp., Binghamton.

Henry Peyer will be guest soloist at the luncheon. He is a lifelong resident of Kingston and has sung in many area churches.

An extra special attraction will be offered this month by D'Halia Designs in Stone Ridge. Newly opened in October, this boutique is operated by Mrs. Christa Tolchin and Mrs. Elida Rubin. An interesting collection featuring variety and specialties will be shown. An added interest at D'Halia Designs are their own designer fabrics and personalized alterations at the location. Modeling the latest styles will be Mrs. Stephen Benson, Mrs. Almerin O'Hara, Mrs. Gordon Gundersen, Mrs. William Margopoulos, Mrs. Theodore Benson, Mrs. Genaro Basile, Mrs. John Dankovitch, Mrs. Russell Stewart, Mrs. Charles Townsend, Mrs. Leonard Waters, Mrs. Richard Skala, Mrs. Charles Ludlow, Mrs. Edward Iberseter and Mrs. Roswitha Davis.

There will be a nursery provided for preschool children at the Holiday Inn. Reservations must be made for each child and a sack lunch and soft toy provided.

Reservations for the luncheon must be made by Wednesday, Feb. 6 and may be made by contacting Mrs. Sanford Whitman, Kingston; Mrs. John Frederick, Kingston; or Mrs. Ray Newton, Saugerties. If cancellation is necessary, the above names should be contacted immediately. All women of the area are invited to attend.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old. My mother has a health problem so she and my Dad go south from November until April. That means I have to change schools, leave all my friends, and go to Arizona with them. I went last year and hated it! I told them I wouldn't go again, but here I am in Arizona and I despise it. I have a boy friend up north and we are extra close.

I told my parents if they don't send me home to stay with a friend (relatives are out, they are like prison guards!) I will kill myself, but they don't believe me.

Abby, if I run away, will they lock me up? I would rather be in an orphanage than live like this. Can't somebody help me? When I see my boy friend I am going to get pregnant so they'll have to let me get married. Please don't tell me to listen to my parents. They hate me. Tell me what to do. I trust you.

TORN APART

DEAR TORN: You have a lot of bitterness and resentment to unload. Tell your parents you want to get your head together and would like to express your feelings to an objective, qualified third party. A psychiatrist or psychologist can help you and your parents develop a better relationship. Running away or getting pregnant will only make a bad situation worse. Talk to your parents today and make a deal! Good luck. And let me hear from you again. I care.

DEAR ABBY: Something happened again last night which practically ruined my evening, and I'd like to know how to handle it if it should happen again, which I'm sure it will.

There is an extremely overbearing, obnoxious woman in town who insists that she is related to me, and every time she sees me, she greets me loudly with, "HELLO, COUSIN!"

In the first place, she is NOT my cousin. Is there some way I can get this loud-mouthed woman to quit calling me "Cousin" without coming right out and insulting her?

My first cousin, once removed, was briefly married to this woman's second cousin, twice removed.

NO COUSIN

DEAR COUSIN: People who insist on claiming you as a relative will do so, no matter how many times you "remove" them. There is nothing you can do about it, so grin and bear it.

DEAR ABBY: I can usually handle my own problems, but this requires advice that only you can give.

I am a single fellow and find myself very much attracted to Jane, and I think Jane is also attracted to me.

About a week ago Jane and her husband separated. I don't want to hurt my chances with this very special lady so here's where you come in. When would it be proper for me to ask Jane out?

WAITING WITH BAITED BREATH

DEAR WAITING: Wait a little longer. Couples usually separate in order to think things over. If your hunch is right and Jane is interested in starting up with you she'll get the message to you somehow.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Paper by UCCC Faculty Member To Be Read at Conference

A paper written by Mrs. Sherry Solomon, an assistant professor of English at Ulster County Community College, has been accepted for presentation at the World Population Society's first annual meeting scheduled Feb. 7-9 in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Solomon's paper is entitled: "Antagonism Religious Jews Feel Towards Zero Population in America."

A resident of Ellenville, Mrs. Solomon plans to attend the Conference to read her paper. Speakers at the conference will include Dr. Margaret Mead, curator emeritus of ethnology for the American Museum of Natural History, and Dr. Roger Revelle, director of the Harvard Center for Population Studies.

Mrs. Solomon received word of her paper's acceptance from Dr. John K. Dixon, the society's vice president and program chairman for the conference. Abstracts of her paper will be printed and distributed to the people attending the conference and will be available for purchase.

The society is striving to break new ground with creative thought toward solving the serious population problems which mankind now faces.

Mrs. Solomon has been on the UCCC faculty since 1966. She earned her B.S. and M.S. Degrees from the State University College at New Paltz.

CYO Essay Contest, Doll Show

The annual essay contest and doll show are being planned by the Ulster County Office of Catholic Youth Organization.

Subject for the essay contest is "Christian Identity Through CYO." Seventh and eighth grade students of elementary schools who were born after September 1, 1959 are eligible to enter. Each essay must be at least 200 words but not more than 350 words in length. First and second place boy and girl winners will receive appropriate individual awards and their winning essays will be included in the Archdiocesan Contest. Winner will be recognized and awards given in the Archdiocesan Contest also.

All essays must be submitted in the handwriting of the entrant. No typewritten manuscripts will be accepted. All essays must be accompanied by an affidavit, verifying the fact that the work submitted was done entirely by the entrant without any school or family help. All entries must be approved by the Parish Moderator or the school principal. The name of the contestant-author of the essay must not appear anywhere on the matter presented. Entry deadline is February 20.

The annual CYO doll show is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 23 at 2 p.m. at St. Peter's School in Kingston.

Dolls entered must be the personal property of the contestant. A contestant may not enter more than three dolls in each category except for family of dolls or bridal party categories.

Awards will be made in each of the following categories to the first, second and third places: largest, smallest, homemade dolls, character or personality, most beautiful, oldest, oddest, boy dolls, doll family, antique dolls, foreign dolls, bride dolls, bridal party, baby dolls, homemade outfit. Judging will begin at 2 p.m. Contestants must claim their dolls upon the completion of the show at 4 p.m.

Entry blanks are available at the CYO office, 23 West Pierpont Street, Kingston, and must be submitted no later than 4:45 on the day of the show.

Hale Irwin Said It About Nicklaus

Let Him Bring the Kids

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — Hale Irwin voiced the sentiments of most of golf's touring pros.

"Why," inquired Irwin, "doesn't he stay home? Or if he has to come, why doesn't he bring the kids?"

But Jack Nicklaus didn't stay home. He made a sudden decision to come to these tropical islands to play in the $220,000 Hawaiian Open.

And he didn't bring the kids. "When I bring the kids, I'm not on vacation," he said. "I'm not on vacation. I came to play golf."

And, to the surprise of practically no one, the game's Golden Bear played it well enough to win the $44,000 first prize, playing just as well as he had to stand off a couple of mild challenges down the stretch Sunday.

He had a two-under-par 70 in the final round on the sun-splashed, 7,154 yard Waialae Country Club course and won by a comfortable three strokes at 271, 17 under par.

Rookie Eddie Pearce, 21, the youngest man on the pro tour, once got to within two strokes of the front-running Nicklaus in the stretch. But Jack responded with a couple of quick birdies that ruined Pearce's dream of an upset.

He settled back into second with a 66—274 total. J. C. Snead was next with 68—275, while Irwin and Dwight Nevil tied at 276. Irwin had a final round 66 in the near-perfect playing conditions, bright sunshine, 80-degree temperatures and just the hint of a breeze. Nevil had a four-under-par 68.

Nicklaus matched the course record set in 1966 by Hawaiian Ted Makalena, who won this event in 1966 and died two years later in a surfing accident.

Nicklaus could have broken the record with a 20-foot birdie putt on the final hole. He missed.

"I'd never try not to make a putt," he said, "but Makalena was a hero in these islands. I'm glad his record is still on the books."

While Nicklaus was scoring the 52nd victory of his career, it was a dismal start of the season for 44-year-old Arnold Palmer, who hadn't played previously this season.

beat only one man in the field with a 292 total and failed to make a check. Nicklaus won $44,000, Pearce $25,000.

Bruce Crampton had a final 69 for 284, Billy Casper 70—285 and Lee Trevino 72—286. British Open Champion Tom Weiskopf did not compete.

Johnny Miller, the young man who had scored a record sweep of the first three titles of the year, was beaten for the first time in 1974. He tied for 11th with a 281 total, but kept intact his unbroken string of subpar rounds. Miller's final 70 marked the 15th consecutive round in which he has broken par this year.

Bullets Too Physical for Celts

PETIT LARCENY — Nick Weatherspoon (R) of the Bullets, steals ball from a diving Dave Cowens (L) of the Boston Celtics during second quarter action in Boston Sunday. The Bullets went on to overpower the Celtics in the nationally televised game, 112-99. (UPI)

Gilmore King in ABA

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Artis Gilmore, Kentucky's king-sized center, now is the King of the Hill in the American Basketball Association in rebounding, but Colonels' Coach Babe McCarthy thinks he's still three years away from reaching his peak.

"Most players keep improving until they're 27," explained McCarthy after the 24-year-old Gilmore shattered the ABA rebounding record with 40 during the Colonels' 123-91 rout of the New York Nets Sunday before a season-high crowd of 14,516 at the Nassau Coliseum.

In Sunday's other ABA action, San Antonio beat Carolina 108-85, Indiana defeated Denver 111-102, and San Diego edged Virginia 107-104.

"Artis still has a lot of things to learn," said McCarthy. "Defensively, he has to learn to pick up his man more and not let him slip behind him. Offensively, he needs to practice his shooting and improve his moves."

"He is certainly not yet comparable offensively to Jabbar," added the Colonels' coach in a reference to Milwaukee's Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, considered the premiere center in the National Basketball Association — and in all of basketball. "But Artis has that opportunity if he can drive himself more."

For one game, however, Gilmore put on a brilliant effort. In addition to his 40 rebounds he scored 21 points, blocked seven shots and had nine assists.

It was his fourth straight strong game in the past week, beginning with last Wednesday's ABA All-Star contest in Norfolk, Va., where the Colonels' 7-foot-2 center was named the outstanding player.

Spurs 108, Cougars 95

The Spurs, using balanced scoring, had their best first quarter of the season while racing to a 37-24 lead. James Silas scored 27 points for the night. Bird Averitt added 26, while Rich Jones had 20 and Swen Nater had 19 for San Antonio.

Pacers 111, Rockets 102
George McGinnis scored 39 points, including 13 in the last period, when he scored four straight points to give Indiana a 12-point lead.Q's 107, Squires 104
Rookie guard Bo Lamar scored on a three-point play to put the Conquistadors ahead to stay in a see-saw fourth period.

ABA scores Saturday: Carolina 125, New York 117; Denver 138, Virginia 120; Utah 118, Indiana 113, overtime; San Antonio 110, Kentucky 107.

By United Press International
It was a simple game, really. The Capital Bullets did everything right and the Boston Celtics did everything wrong. That, according to Celtics' Coach Tom Heinsohn, is why the Bullets beat the Celtics 112-99 on national television Sunday.

"The Bullets were physical with us," Heinsohn said, "but we weren't physical with them. We let them get the shots—they didn't let us get the shots. How are you supposed to win like that?"

The Bullets didn't start out looking like they'd beat anybody. Boston kept the pressure on in the first half, although it only led by four at the half. The Celtics had built up leads of nine points twice, only to have them erased by the shooting of Phil Chenier, who had 15 points in the half and a game high 29.

In the second half, the game turned completely in Capital's favor. The Bullets quickly wiped out Boston's four-point lead on baskets by Elvin Hayes and Mike Riordan. With 8:41 left in the third quarter, Kevin Porter started a binge by hitting on a 20-foot jumper to give Capital the lead for the first time at 59-58. Shortly thereafter, Porter and Hayes collected nine points between them to lead the Bullets to an 11-0 streak to break the game open.

"I was just in the right place at the right time," said Porter, who had 20 points. "They just kept falling in."

The Bullets then stopped Boston's fast break by sending a man to midcourt to intercept them before the break could form.

"It wasn't planned that way," said Bullets Coach K. C. Jones. "You don't sacrifice offense just to stop a fast break. The only way you can stop it right is to get down there fast with them. Now it made it so much easier for us to have Porter and Chenier hitting from the outside because then we were back there to start with and we didn't have as far to go."

In other NBA games Sunday, Los Angeles ripped Portland 124-91, Buffalo downed Philadelphia 112-98, Chicago defeated Cleveland 108-94, Houston stopped Atlanta 123-112 and Detroit dumped Seattle 114-100.

Reserve guard Jim Price came off the bench to score 24 points and Happy Hairston added 23 as the Lakers continued to dominate Portland, routing the Trail Blazers for the 11th time without a defeat at home. The Lakers increased their Pacific Division lead to a full game over idle Golden State and the point spread was the biggest margin of victory this year for Los Angeles, topping the 137-109 margin against Portland earlier.

Jerry Sloan hit on 11-of-14 shots and equaled his season high of 25 points as the Bulls ran their current winning streak to eight games by beating Cleveland. It was also the eighth consecutive game in which the Bulls' defense held its opponents under 100 points.

Bob McAdoo scored 28 points and Jim McMillian added 20 to pace Buffalo over Philadelphia at Toronto and Calvin Murphy scored 23 points and added a career high 15 assists to lead Houston over Atlanta. The victory broke a five-game losing streak.

Bob Lanier and John Mengelt combined for 45 points to lift Detroit over the SuperSonics. Lanier hit for 23 of his game-high 25 points in the first half to contribute to the Pistons' 13-point halftime lead of 61-48. Mengelt came off the bench and scored 16 of his 22 points in the second half.

GIANT PAYOFF — Jack Nicklaus holds up a giant check for $44,000 after winning the Hawaiian Open Sunday in Honolulu. Nicklaus fired a 72-hole score of 271, 17 under par. Nicklaus, who had a final round 70, managed to finish three ahead of Eddie Pearce. (UPI)

Roberto Wins Seniors

PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. (UPI)

Although Argentine golfer Roberto de Vicenzo has just turned 50, he qualifies as a PGA Senior. Sunday he promptly fired a final round six-under par 66 to win the annual Seniors event, but it was his wife who stole the show.

In addition to the $4,000 first prize earned by his 15-under par 273, the Buenos Aires resident won a year's free use of a $10,000 U.S. luxury car. His wife looked at the car and said, "The Americans enter 18 regular PGA tournaments this year, fired a 66 also this big car and then no gas!"

De Vicenzo now limits his golfing to Latin American events, such as the upcoming Panama tournament, and an occasional PGA tour entry. But he didn't run out of gas when challenged by greats Julius Boros and Art Wall.

Wall, another 50-year-old, and Boros split the $5,000 second and third place money by finishing with 276 scores.

There were 80 "Seniors" in the tournament and the prize money totaled $40,000.

Sandra Palmer Played Like Hot Dog

MIAMI (UPI) — Sandra Palmer "played like a hot dog" for a while Sunday but when it came time to play winning golf in the LPGA's first 1974 event, her game was there.

The five-time winner last year took a five-hole playoff win over Player of the Year Kathy Whitworth in the $35,000 Burdine's Invitational golf tournament.

Palmer, a 32-year-old former North Texas State homecoming queen, had gone into Sunday's final round with a four-stroke lead over three golfers and six strokes over Whitworth.

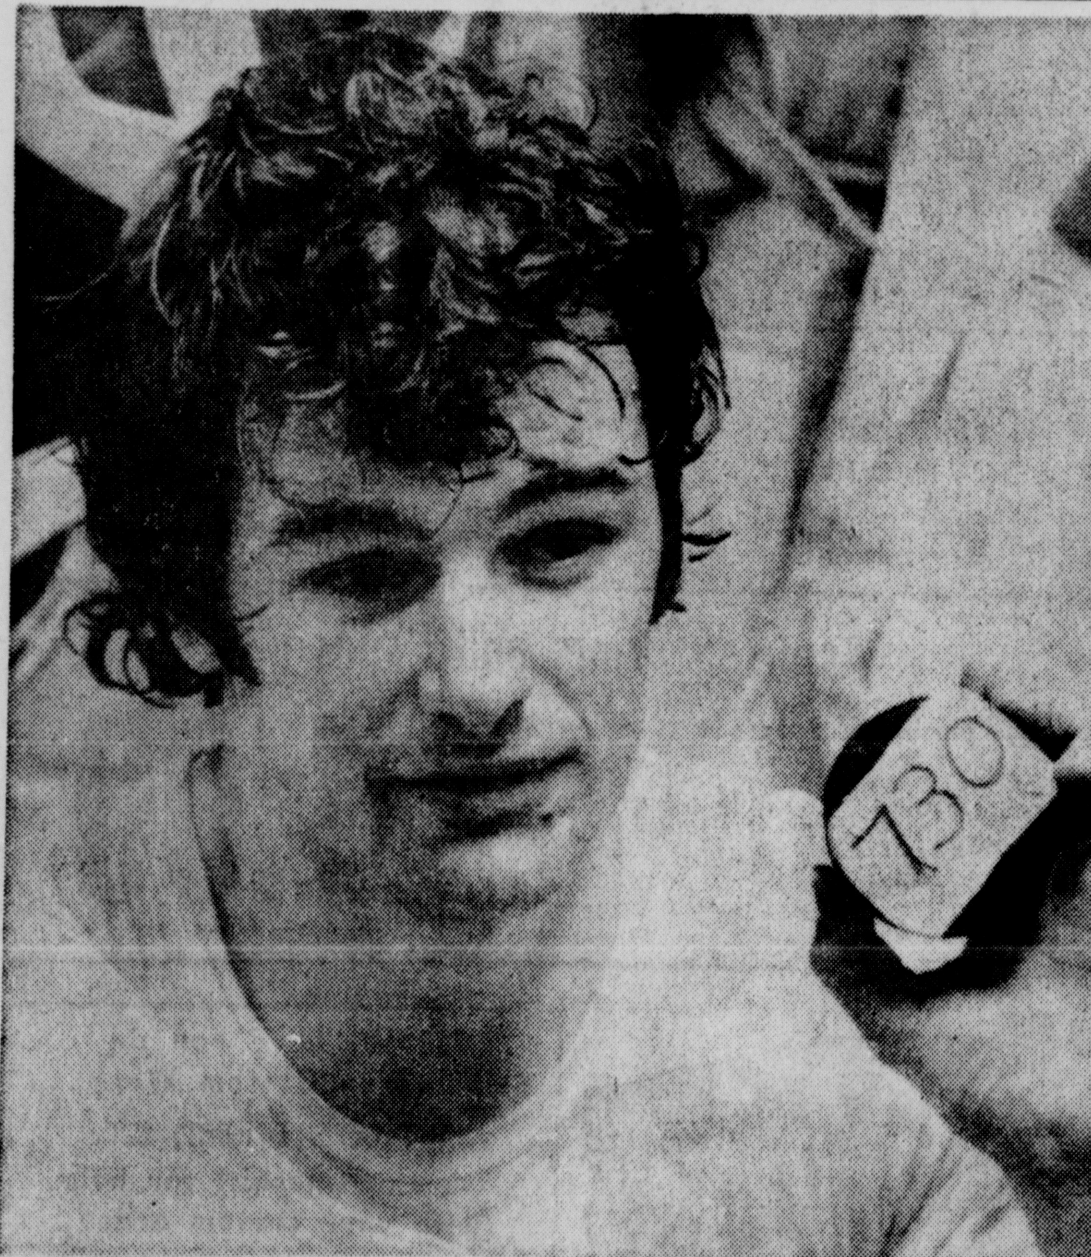

The three players in second place faded and were no problem. But while Palmer was tumbling to a three-over-par 76, Whitworth was storming to 70 over the regulation 54 holes.

A tense five sudden-death holes later, Palmer got the first birdie and a $4,500 check for first prize.

"I played like a hot dog," she said later. "I scrambled all day, but I don't care how I win as long as I win."

"I guess, I'm the leading Kendale Lakes course tied at money winner now," she joked. "Maybe they ought to cancel the rest of the tour." The pair had finished the 54 Mary Mills and Donna Caponi holes of the par-73, 6,355-yard Young were tied at 219.

THE RECORD BREAKER — Rod Gilbert displays puck with which he broke Andy Bathgate's former Ranger total career mark of 729 points. Rod later got an assist for total 731 as Rangers and Minnesota North Stars played a 5-5 tie Sunday in New York City. (UPI)

Rod Stayed Behind: And for Good Reason

NEW YORK (AP) — The other players had left the Rangers' dressing room, but Rod Gilbert—the Rangers' new scoring leader—stayed behind.

Gilbert had scored twice and assisted on a third goal in the Rangers' 5-5 tie with Minnesota Sunday night, bringing his career total to 730 points and eclipsing the New York scoring record of his former idol, Andy Bathgate.

"Bathgate was a great, great player. I admired him all the years I played with him," the 33-year-old Gilbert said. "I don't feel like I've broken his record."

But Gilbert had. And when his second-period goal entered the netting behind North Stars goaltender Cesare Maniago, the 17,000 fans at Madison Square Garden gave the New York right wing a standing ovation.

"It was great that the crowd reacted that way. I'm very lucky."

Others will say that luck isn't part of Gilbert's bag of tricks; rather, every one of those 730 points was the result of determination and hard work.

Gilbert feels differently. "You look back and try to analyze how lucky you are to get so many points. I feel I'm lucky to play on such a good club for so many years," he said.

"It's a boys' dream to make the National Hockey League. It's a dream to score so many points. But when you accomplish something like this, the feeling is hard to describe."

Gilbert, in his 12th season, accomplished the feat in the same number of seasons as Bathgate. Gilbert, however, already has played more games than Bathgate.

The Rangers weren't quite as successful as Gilbert Sunday night, falling behind 3-1 after some sloppy passing gave the North Stars two breakaway goals, then blowing a 5-3 lead after fighting back.

Danny Grant stole the puck and scored the first of two goals after New York defenseman Gilles Marotte made a bad pass, and later Jude Drouin captured an errant pass by New York's Bill Fairbairn and netted the first of his two goals.

Fittipaldi Wins

BRASILIA (UPI) — Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil helped inaugurate the ultramodern Brasilia Autodrome Sunday when he drove his McLaren M23 to an easy victory in the President Medici Formula One Grand Prix.

Fittipaldi crossed the line better than 17 seconds ahead of runnerup Jody Scheckter of South Africa in a Tyrrell 006. The race did not count toward the Formula One world championship.

Gilbert brought the Rangers back both times, tying the game 1-1 after Grant's first goal, then tying the game at 3-3 with his record breaker in the second period.

"That was the highlight of the night as far as I'm concerned," chirped Rangers Coach Emile Francis. "It's always nice to get a point out of a tough game like this, but I've coached Gilbert since he was a junior, and everyone in this organization is proud of his achievement."

Gilbert also set up linemate Jean Ratelle's third-period goal, giving New York a temporary 5-3 lead, but Drouin scored his second of the night and Dennis Hextall tied the game with five minutes remaining.

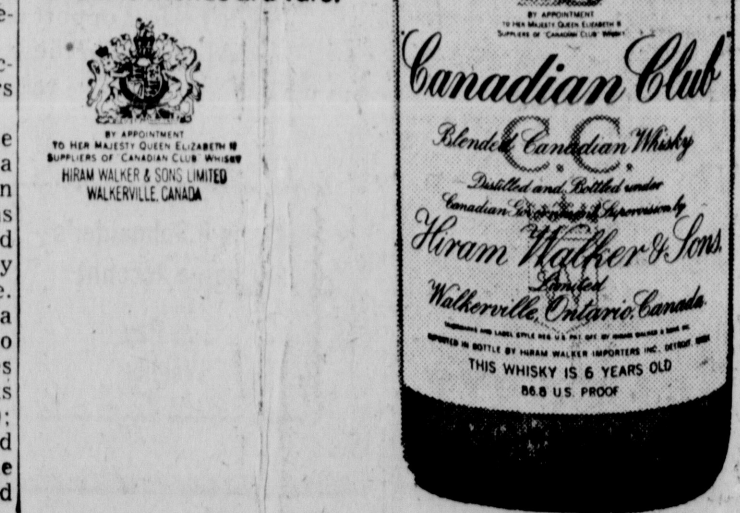

Ted Irvine and Walter Tkaczuk were the other Rangers scorers.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the Pittsburgh Penguins ran into a persistent jinx at the Boston Gardens, losing to the Bruins for the 17th time in the aged arena, 5-4, on three goals by Boston right wing Ken Hodge.

The Flyers and Atlanta Flames tied 2-2; the Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Sabres tied 3-3; Chicago Black Hawks blanked St. Louis Blues 3-0; Montreal Canadiens topped Detroit Red Wings 4-1; and the California Golden Seals topped the New York Islanders 4-2.

Boo's Make Pitch For Playoff Berth

SAUGERTIES
While the top three teams in the SAA basketball league are still struggling along within whispering distance of each other, Boo's Tavern made its move to claim the remaining berth in the upcoming playoffs with a 72-58 win over Naccaratto Insurance.

That win bobbed Boo's into fourth place. At the top of the ladder, The Handlebar and Artie's Bar climbed into a first place tie, displacing Ethan Allen Archery by half a game for the first time this season.

The Handlebar downed Ethan Allen, 85-74, while Artie's kept pace by nipping last place Annandale Hotel, 54-51.

Balance was the weapon that carried Boo's easily past the Insurers. Ray Hanlin had 19, Dave Kane 18, Warren Gritmon 14 and Dave Whittaker 12 in an attack that caught Naccaratto's flatfooted at the start. The losers scored only two first period points and never got back in the game.

Jack Naccaratto scored 18 to pace the losers.

Rod Chando erupted for 33 points and Don Komosa added 17 points and 17 rebounds to power the Handlebar past the Archers. The winners led all the way despite a 26 point effort from Frank Allen and a 19 point, 24 rebound performance by Coleman Link.

Facing lighter competition, Artie's also triumphed, but the shorthanded Bartenders had to hustle to do it. Minus top scorers Joe Uhl and Jim Wherry, Artie's got a boost from an unexpected source.

Jim Dougherty, who usually warms the bench, stepped in and connected for a team high 16 points. That helped preserve Artie's one point halftime lead. Jerry Hawkins with 13 assists, and Jim Alba with 16 rebounds aided the cause. Craig Burkhardt poured in 28 to pace Annandale's unsuccessful effort.

In a Thursday makeup tilt, the Archers plan to regain a piece of first place at the expense of Naccaratto's Insurance. The weekend's tripleheader pits those teams in a rematch, Boo's against Artie's and Annandale Hotel against the Handlebar.

Bucks, Lakers Advance To Junior Loop Finals

As expected, the Bucks and Lakers each toppled opponents to advance to the championship game of the Recreation Department Junior Basketball League. The Bucks dumped the Knicks, 58-44, and the Lakers whipped the Celtics, 61-49.

The teams will meet for the title next Sunday while the Knicks and Celtics will battle for third place.

Ron Mapes had the hot hand, and it was needed as the Knicks proved a persistent foe. A three-point game at halftime, Mapes led the Bucks to a 19-4 third quarter. He finished as the top scorer with 27 points.

Mark Brown added 10 for the winners while the Knicks were led by Jim Lichtenberg's 17 points and Daryle Van Dyke's 10. The Bucks almost doubled the Knicks' field goal total but only hit on two free throws to the losers' 14.

League-leading scorer Scipio Boler threw in 22. Jim Mack netted 18 and Bill Berardi scored 14 as the well balanced Lakers steadily drew away from the Celts. Bob Whiffen had 24, and Val Gam had 17 for the losers who reduced a big margin in the last period.

The scoring:
Bucks (58)—Mapes 27, Brown 10, Kiernan 8, Mercier 7, Squanson 2, Keating 2, Van Dermack 2.

Knicks (44)—Lichtenberg 17, Van Dyke 10, Jordan 6, Howard 3, Plasker 2, Smith 2.

Lakers (61)—Boler 22, Mack 18, Berardi 14, Gallo 5, Brooks 2, Celtics (49)—Whiffen 24, Gam 10. The Bucks almost doubled

OCS Skiers Score Sweep

WOODRIDGE
Onteora High's boy skiers remained undefeated in the UCAL by topping Liberty, 191.04-198.33, at Davos and the girls raised their league record to 4-1 by winning, 259.50-264.90.

Tomaz Lunder again paced the Indians to victory, placing first with a time of 34.79. Teammate John Sheehan ran second at 36.78.

Onteora had to rely on depth to move its UCAL mark to 5-0. "A few of the boys were disqualified and it was our eighth and ninth skiers who rallied us to win the meet," reported Coach Joel Tomson.

The girls pulled quite an upset by edging Liberty. Barbara Sheehan, Tracy Jennings and Ellen Sheehan grabbed the first three spots, respectively, as Onteora stopped a team that had convincingly beaten it last year.

Tomson gives the girls a chance now to take the league title. The key for both teams will be Thursday's matchup with Fallsburgh. The Indians also face Rondout Tuesday and New Paltz Wednesday.

Maroon Gymnasts Sweep Triangular DCSL Meet

PAWLING
Kingston High's girls gymnastics team excelled behind triple-winner Noel Carpio here Friday and swept a DCSL triangular to raise its record to 5-1 in the league.

Kingston totalled 66.45 to 41.03 by runnerup Poughkeepsie and 26.7 by host Pawling. Carpio won the vaulting, balance beam and floor exercise competitions to rack up 24.3 points and capture the all-around honors.

In the fourth event, the uneven bars, Karen Mundhenk scored a 4.9 to give KHS a sweep of the first places. Carpio placed second in that event. Contributing to the Maroon's win were Lori Dinmore, with seconds in vaulting and floor exercise, Debbie Petersen, second on the balance beam and third in floor exercise, and Sharon Smith, who was fourth on the balance beam. Mundhenk also tied with Pawling's Sybil Richards for third place in vaulting.

KHS is on the road today meeting Roosevelt and John Jay in another league triangular at the Patriots' gym.

Billie Jean, Ile Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Billie Jean King played one of "my best matches ever," and Romania's fiery Iile Nastase lost his service only once as both players scored victories in Sunday tennis tournaments.

Ms. King won both the singles and doubles championships in the $50,000 Washington Women's Tennis Tournament in Fairfax, Va. beating Australia's Kerry Melville 6-0, 6-2 for the $10,000 singles title prize. She then teamed with Betty Stove of The Netherlands to defeat Francoise Durr of France and Kerry Harris of Australia in the first set and dropped only three points on his own service while recording three service aces.

The 27-year-old Nastase, leading money winner on the World Championship tennis circuit last year, earned $10,000 for the victory while Gorman picked up $5,000.

UCLA: The Five-Minute Stint

By United Press International

UCLA and North Carolina State, the nation's No. 1 and 2-ranked teams, found themselves in unique positions—losing—in the first half against conference foes Saturday but came back to score convincing victories.

Southern Cal hoping to upset the top-ranked Bruins on their home court jumped to a six-point lead 46-40 with 15:39 remaining after burning the net with 65.4 per cent field goal shooting in the first half.

But in the next five minutes the Bruins reeled off seven straight field goals changed the score to 54-46 in their favor by holding USC scoreless for seven and a half minutes and coasted to their 16th victory in 17 games this season 65-54.

UCLA coach John Wooden labeled the outing against USC the Bruins' "most important game of the year" because it was a Pacific-8 battle against the only team which might have challenged their dominance and prevented their return to the NCAA playoffs to defend the title. UCLA is now 5-0 in Pac-8 play while USC is 3-2.

"We played as well as we could for three quarters of the game," said USC coach Bob Boyd. "But it is a game; a streak where we couldn't stop them. We wanted to either take layups on a fastbreak or wait and shoot later and we did that. We had open shots and we hit them. But in the last 10 minutes the Bruins played tougher defense."

Considering the closeness of the game until the late stages, Wooden said he's "hopeful that we have the conference championship wrapped up before we meet the Trojans" at their court. That will be March 9, both teams' final season game.

All-America's Keith Wilkes and Bill Walton had 20 and 19 points, respectively, to pace the UCLA attack while Southern Cal guard Dan Anderson led the Trojans with 18. Walton led all rebounders with 16.

With David Thompson and Tommy Burleson combining for 45 points, North Carolina State rebounded from a seven-point first half deficit to score a 105-93 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over Virginia.

Thompson scored 23 points and Burleson 22 as the Wolfpack ran up its 24th consecutive conference win. Gus Gerard matched his season average, scoring 20 points, to lead the Cavaliers.

The victory was State's 15th this season against a single loss, to UCLA, and its sixth without a loss against ACC opponents. Virginia, dealt its seventh straight defeat, is now 5-11 overall and 2-4 in the conference.

In other action, third-ranked Notre Dame beat Davidson 95-84, fourth-ranked North Carolina edged Clemson 61-60, fifth-ranked Marquette defeated DePaul 70-57, sixth-ranked Maryland ripped Duke 104-83, seventh-ranked Vanderbilt beat Florida 58-52, ninth-ranked Alabama beat Auburn 73-64 and 10th-ranked Pittsburgh downed William and Mary 68-62.

Elsewhere, 12th-ranked Long Beach State kayeed Oral Roberts 98-89, 13th-ranked In-ville, tied for 13th in the ratings, upended West Texas State 99-73, 17th-ranked Wisconsin was upset by unranked Minnesota 64-63 in overtime.

UCLA's 88-game winning streak, also got credit from Holland for his defensive work. "Clay was just playing a super ball game. He was all over the court and making the big baskets."

Clay, who won the nickname of "The Iceman," because he made last-second baskets to give the Irish four victories, including the 71-70 upset which ended UCLA's 88-game winning streak, also got credit from Holland for his defensive work.

"We didn't go to the full court press earlier," he said, "because Notre Dame is so quick at the guard spots that it is impossible to press them."

Holland said Davidson tried to double-team Notre Dame center John Shumate, who was the high point man with 26 in the game, and "when you do that, someone else is going to hurt you." Clay finished with 19 points.

Albany State topped Fredonia State, 57-48; Hobart downed St. Lawrence, 93-64; Ithaca defeated Oswego State, 72-68; Marist beat St. Josephs of Maine, 64-59; Rochester Tech edged Binghamton, 68-64, and Sacred Heart outscored Siena, 110-101.

Union defeated Hamilton, 70-48; Buffalo State College beat New Paltz State, 107-84; Brockport State topped Oakland, 76-73; and Baptist Bible downed Houghton, 69-61.

Fourteen was the magic number for St. Bonaventure. The Bonnies' victory over Detroit was their 14th in 19 games and was paced by 14-point performances from Essie Hollis, Glenn Price and Pat Oliveto.

Freshman guard Kevin Crouther scored 21 points as Oneonta State came from behind to defeat Genesee State. The winners, 12-5 overall, are 4-1 in State University conference play.

A balanced scoring attack helped Syracuse overpower American, which was only a point down early in the second half before the Orange pulled away. Dennis DuVal and Rudy Hackett each had 18 points, while Jim Lee added 16 for Syracuse.

For U. S.: Good Showing

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP) — The American women only the Austrians doing better with all four of their entries among the same group.

But world championships are not a team event. The attention is on the three top places for which medals are awarded.

The American men will have a much harder time in the next race, the men's giant slalom on Tuesday, except for veteran Bob Cochran, 21, of Richmond, Va., who might grab a good headstart towards becoming world champion in the combined event.

Another American, Bill Kidd, won that title in the last world championships, at Val Gardena, Italy, in 1970. Kidd retired from amateur racing after the title win.

The title goes to the best skier in all three world championship events — the giant slalom, downhill and slalom.

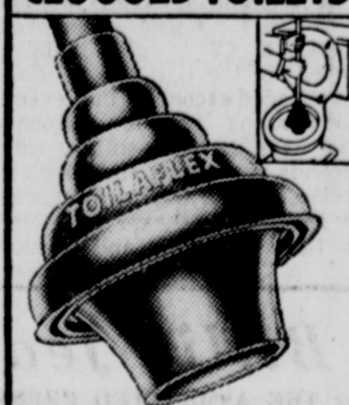

The women placed three among the top 15 in their giant slalom race on Sunday, with weeks ago. The first verdict there was that she broke a vertebra, but later this diagnosis became less certain, especially as to whether it was a new injury, or an old one which was reactivated by the fall.

The fourth American, Cindy Nelson, 18, of Lutsen, Minn., missed a gate and was out. She was the only one to beat Austrian star Annemarie Proell after 11 consecutive downhill victories. Miss Nelson achieved the feat at Grindelwald, the same place Miss Poulsen had the bad fall.

Her sister, Marilyn, 23, was eighth. Sandra Poulsen, 21, of Olympic Valley, Calif., said, "I didn't do too badly considering that I was supposed to have a broken back."

She suffered a back injury in downhill training in Grindelwald, Switzerland three

Marty and Herb: Bad Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miler Marty Liquori has confirmed his suspicions about the track in Cleveland and sprinter Herb Washington did the same about the starter.

Both Liquori and Washington turned up losers in a track weekend hogged by the shotgun accomplishments of George Woods and Marin Sidler and some record shattering running by Charlie Scott, the Phoenix Suns' high-scoring guard who suffered a fractured arm Friday night, will be released from Centinela Valley Community Hospital this week.

The third-year NBA pro underwent an operation Saturday.

pian Byron Dyce in 2:09.7. Liquori was more than four seconds behind, timed in 2:13.8. "I just couldn't run these turns," he said. "It's an impossible track to run on."

Washington, the world indoor recordholder, pulled up in the 50-yard dash and did not finish, complaining that starter Charles Martin did not give him enough time to get set. The event was won by Tom Watley in 5.3.

Scott to Be Released

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Charlie Scott, the Phoenix Suns' high-scoring guard who suffered a fractured arm Friday night, will be released from Centinela Valley Community Hospital this week.

The third-year NBA pro underwent an operation Saturday.

Charlie Finley and A's On Collision Course

OAKLAND (UPI) — Charlie Finley is on a collision course with his world champion Oakland A's.

Unless he sells the club in the next few days—which seems unlikely—the only way Finley will be able to hold spring training this year is with the help of arbitration, and there is no certainty even then.

As of the moment, Finley doesn't have a manager nor a radio-atv contract, and most of the players who helped lead the team to a second straight world championship—fellows such as Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando, Gene Tenace, Rolie Fingers, Ken Holtzman, Vida Blue and Jim Hunter—are unsigned and unlikely to be without help from the arbitration panel set up for the first time this year.

Starting last Friday and continuing through Feb. 22, players are free to submit salary requests to arbitration. Hearings will be held from Feb. 11 through Feb. 22 with the players and management each getting their say.

"Hell, the way we are going," said Fingers, "those arbitration hearings are going to be dominated by the A's."

Jackson, as American League and World Series MVP, feels he is justified in asking for $125,000 and Bando, second in club RBIs behind Reggie last year, says he is worth $100,000.

Hunter and Holtzman won 21 games each last year and Blue added 20 victories. All three feel they deserve $100,000.

Fingers, mainstay of the bullpen who appeared in all seven World Series games against the Mets, thinks he should receive around $60,000 and Tenace, who hit 24 homers, thinks he is worth $75,000.

Of the players mentioned, Holtzman, mostly because of a carryover contract from the Cubs, and Jackson received $75,000 each in 1973, while Hunter was at the $65,000 level, Bando and Blue at $55,000, Tenace at $40,000 and Fingers at $35,000. This year, all have been offered modest raises in the $10,000 to $15,000 range.

Under agreement reached last year by the baseball owners and the Players Association, the arbitration panel's decisions will be final and binding. Off his track record, you'd have to figure Finley won't take that view, especially if the panel rules heavily in favor of his players.

"How I run my ball club is my business," he has said on numerous occasions in the past.

First Win for NP Skiers

WOODRIDGE

New Paltz High's boys skiers won their first meet of the season Friday by stopping Rondout, 236.4 to 258.0 at Davos. The NP girls, however, lost by forfeit when they couldn't find a full team.

Brad Davenport and his sister Leslie were the individual medalists for the day's competition. Top Paltz skiers were Jim Hesketh and Liz Wassell. The results:

Your Horoscope

Tuesday, February 5

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day brings some disappointment; however, it will not be too difficult to rise above these conditions. The latter part of the day you are feeling more confident and can turn problems into good results.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you are tactful with kin, you can attend to business and other activities and get fine results. The morning may be difficult.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A letter you receive may be disturbing, but if you study the facts, it could be to your benefit. Schedule your activities wisely.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study monetary affairs in the morning and be sure you are accurate. Don't rely on regular adviser now. Use own good judgment instead.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) An annoying situation can be cleared up intelligently in the morning. Make plans for improving your monetary position.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning is best time to handle any problems. Labor more diligently than usual and make your life easier in the future. Relax tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't neglect to handle practical affairs awaiting your attention. A good friend can help you out of a difficult situation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle those civic matters that are important to you. Also, engage in philanthropic matters that are worthwhile. Have fun tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to accomplish more than you have in the past, so look into new outlets that are profitable. Learn from your associates.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Contemplate and then know how to have more rapport with a devoted friend. Use a different method in handling your obligations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need the support of associates where a personal matter is concerned. Avoid one who apposes you and stay out of trouble.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have much work to do but make sure it is done efficiently. Use the objective approach for best results. Be logical.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some planning in the morning will make your social activities work out much better. Show more devotion to mate and get right results.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she could have a highly emotional nature that is best counteracted by taking a more objective viewpoint that will permit greater success. The business executive or scientist is in this most interesting chart. Give ethical training early in life. Sports are a must. Much culture here.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

POPULARITY: (Q.) My younger sister has a lot of boy friends and always has fun wherever she goes. She's popular. She's 18. I'm 20 and don't have a boy friend because of her. Whenever a boy comes over to see me, she's around and somehow he gets interested in her.

Now I don't hate her, but she gets me mad because she's so lucky and I'm not. I guess I'm jealous. She's a nice-looking girl. I can't say she's not, because she is.

Hijackers Fly To Middle East

By United Press International
Three members of an obscure guerrilla band flew to the Middle East today after freeing a hijacked Greek ship and two hostages in Karachi Harbor in return for Greece's promise to spare the lives of two condemned Arab commandos.

In Singapore, four other guerrillas rejected a government offer to let their commandeered ferry steam into the open sea and take them to a getaway plane to take them to the Middle East.

Airport officials said the Pakistan Airlines jetliner carrying the three Karachi commandos arrived early today at Cairo airport.

They said the guerrillas, accompanied aboard the plane by the Egyptian and Libyan ambassadors to Pakistan, surrendered on landing to airport security officers.

Egyptian Ambassador Ali Khashaba told newsmen at the airport security authorities planned to let the commandos fly on to Tripoli, accompanied by Libyan Ambassador Ibrahim Jerbi.

A Pakistani official said the guerrillas agreed to leave the ship.

Karachi when Greece promised to commute the death sentences handed two Palestinian commandos for killing five persons and wounding 55 in an attack last August at Athens airport.

The guerrillas took the ship's captain, chief officer and engineer hostage Saturday when they stormed aboard the freighter Vori. The captain was freed later.

The commandos had threatened to blow up the ship with hostages aboard unless Greece freed the two imprisoned guerrillas, but later eased their demands.

In Damascus, Palestinian guerrilla leaders condemned the seizure of the Greek vessel and said it was aimed at embarrassing a coming Islamic summit meeting in Lahore, Pakistan.

The three commandos described themselves as members of the "Muslim International Guerrillas"—a previously unknown group.

The government radio in Singapore said the four ferry hijackers thanked authorities for offering to let them steam into the open sea, but "they preferred to fly."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has arrived from Cuba for talks with President Nixon on subjects including arms control, the Middle East and possibly U.S. relations with Cuba.

The Soviet official landed in the midst of a sleet storm at nearby Andrews Air Force Base Sunday. As he stepped out of his plane he asked: "Am I in Antarctica?"

He flew here from Havana, where Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev was making his first visit.

That fact caused some speculation that high on the agenda would be a review of relations between Cuba and the United States, which were broken off in 1961.

President Nixon, who was at Camp David, Md., when Gromyko landed, was scheduled to meet with the Russian foreign minister late today at the White House.

Gromyko said he was here "at the invitation of the United States government." He added that "we will certainly be able to find some topics for discussion. There are indeed questions on which it is Cuba and the Soviet Union."

expedient to exchange opinions. And I here refer to both questions of bilateral relations between the United States and the Soviet Union and internal problems. And as I see it, we will probably refer to a very broad range, geographically speaking, of problems. And I believe I would be correct . . . if I said that the visit of (Brezhnev) to Cuba went over very successfully.

"I can say quite emphatically, and definitely," Gromyko said, "that the results of the visit will serve to improve still further the relations between Cuba and the Soviet Union."

He said the United States and Washington "have a special responsibility to preserve the peace and to contribute to the developing of mankind."

King Hussein of Jordan will see President Nixon in Washington on Friday, apparently to discuss what happens to Jerusalem, which both sides in the Middle East dispute claim.

U.S.-Soviet talks on limitation of strategic nuclear weapons

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who met him at the airport, replied that: "As co-chairmen of the Geneva conference, we intend to discuss prospects of peace in the Middle East and certainly will discuss the prospects for the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, European security and similar matters."

U.S.-Soviet talks on limitation of strategic nuclear weapons

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who met him at the airport, replied that: "As co-chairmen of the Geneva conference, we intend to discuss prospects of peace in the Middle East and certainly will discuss the prospects for the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, European security and similar matters."

He said the United States and Washington "have a special responsibility to preserve the peace and to contribute to the developing of mankind."

King Hussein of Jordan will see President Nixon in Washington on Friday, apparently to discuss what happens to Jerusalem, which both sides in the Middle East dispute claim.

Overwhelming Strike Vote

LONDON (UPI) — Coal miners voted by an overwhelming 81 per cent in returns announced today to launch a nationwide strike expected to turn Britain's economic crisis into a disaster.

The Mineworkers' Union said coal workers voted 188,393 to 44,222 to walk off their jobs next Sunday, escalating their 12-week-old slowdown into a full-scale walkout.

About 86 per cent of Britain's 269,000 miners took part in the crucial strike balloting last Thursday and Friday. The votes, counted by the independent Electoral Reform Society, were announced by Mineworkers' President Joe Gormley at union headquarters. The ballot authorized the union's national executive committee to launch a strike on Sunday, but did not make it mandatory.

The coal slowdown, Arab oil cutbacks and an overtime ban by 29,000 railroad engineers have combined to cut fuel supplies and plunge Britain into what Prime Minister Edward Heath has called its most serious economic crisis since the end of World War II.

The Heath government imposed a three-day work week

Dec. 31 to conserve dwindling energy stocks and government officials predicted more work cuts if the miners launch a full-scale walkout.

The union's ruling national executive committee, which was scheduled to meet Tuesday to discuss the strike vote, appeared divided on whether the coal miners should try to work out a last-minute accord with the Heath government.

Gormley, a moderate, said he was "looking for a way to assist a settlement." Lawrence Daly, the union's hard-line general secretary, said, however, he was "confident" a strike would take place.

The miners' slowdown has slashed coal production 30 per cent and forced up to one million workers off their jobs. Britain depends on coal for producing most of its electricity.
